We are pleased to announce our first Lunch & Learn Panel Discussion! Not only will each panelist give you information you can use to help your business right away, they will also be available for follow-up question and answer sessions. We would like to take this opportunity to welcome and introduce you to our speakers:

Attorney Kathryn Rookes – Utilizes her 20 years experience in a franchise law specialty to provide services to franchisors and franchisees. Her company is experienced in structuring franchise programs, preparing franchise, development and subfranchise (“master”) agreements, preparing Franchise Disclosure Documents (“FDD”) (both United States and other countries), handling franchise registrations with state franchise and business opportunity agencies, negotiating franchise agreements, compliance issues such as defaults, termination and enforcing post-termination obligations and other franchise relationship issues.

Coach David Weaver - Managing Partner, AdvCoach Works with privately-held businesses to grow their revenues and help them develop teams to manage the business more effectively. I focus on five critical areas: Leadership, Marketing, Sales, Human Capital and Financial Management.

Coach Debby Stone, JD, CPCC, PCC - Co-founded Corner Office Coaching in 2002 and serves as CEO. Debby holds both undergraduate and law degrees from Duke University. She practiced law for 16 years, first in a large Atlanta law firm and later in her own firm. Debby received her coach training and certification from The Coaches Training Institute, has completed Organization and Relationship Systems coach training through The Center for Right Relationship, and is accredited as a Professional Certified Coach through the International Coach Federation. Debby also serves as a senior editor and contributing writer for The Complete Lawyer.
